

OPEN NEW OFFICE . . . It was a little more than the usual ribbon cutting ceremony here last Thursday as Wells Fargo Bank opened a new Southland office—and the first in Torrance. Darcy Jo Bancroft, reigning Miss Torrance, led the ceremonies. Officials of the bank gathered on the steps of the bank building—each with their own pair of shears—to cut the ceremonial ribbon. The new office is located on the Plaza Level of the five-story ring building at the Del Amo Financial Center. The building will be known as the Wells Fargo Building. (Press-Herald Photo)

Area Choirs To Appear At Center

Four local high school choirs will present modern and traditional Christmas carols Friday during a special pre-Christmas concert at the Del Amo Financial Center. The South High Choir will appear between 10 and 11 a.m., while the West High Choir will entertain between 11 and 12 a.m. High Schools will be joined by choirs from Redondo Union and Palos Verdes High Schools for the program. The choral groups will appear in the lobby of the Union Bank Tower and on the plaza level between the tower and the Wells Fargo Building.
